

CIA Director to Give Speech at OU

George Bush, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, will be a featured speaker at the University of Oklahoma's Student Leadership Conference Tuesday.

Bush will address about 300 student leaders from Oklahoma colleges and universities at 2 p.m. in Meacham Auditorium in the Oklahoma Memorial Union in Norman.

"With his experience as director of the CIA, as well as his leadership roles in Congress as a diplomat,

George Bush is in a unique position to comment on vital issues," Sen.

Henry Bellmon said in announcing the scheduled appearance.

Following the Norman speech and a brief question and answer session,

Bush will attend the Oklahoma Hall of Fame Dinner in Oklahoma City where he will read the citation for Bellmon's induction.
